

AMH 3930-1 African-American History Through Film
Dr. Maxine Jones

Course Description:

Films and documentaries will be used to explore the history of African Americans in the United States. Although some portions of the course are topical, cutting across chronological divisions, there will be a general chronological progression from the African Slave Trade to contemporary America.