

*LAH 3411:
History of Mexico, Central America, and the Caribbean*

TuTh 9:45AM-11:00AM, BEL 0003

Francisco Mata Rosas, "Mictlán" (1997)

This course will give students an understanding of the interlinked histories of Mexico, Central America and the Caribbean. The class takes a thematic approach and discusses a wide range of topics such as Native cultures; armed rebellion, the cultural and economic contributions made by Africans and their descendants, and environmental catastrophe. The chronological framework begins in the precolonial period and extends to the contemporary era. The course is ideal for those interested in the region, and topics such as history and culture.

Please email Prof Robinson A. Herrera (rherrera@fsu.edu) if you have any questions about the course.
