

ASH3402

Chinese History Before 1898

Prof. Luo | TU/TH 1:20-2:35pm

This course examines ancient, medieval, and early modern China with some comparative notes on traditional Japan and Korea. We will approach imperial China from a wide range of viewpoints, such as political, social, economic, and religious. We will also explore various long-term forces and patterns of Chinese society that were shaped by social structures, natural environment, and cultural encounters.

